

YEDITEPE UNIVERSITY
Department of Computer Engineering

SEMINAR

April 16, 2025 (Wednesday)

12:00 – 13:00

Engineering Faculty (Room: B-318)

PREPARATION OF TEST SCENARIOS, DOCUMENTATION AND REPORTING

Barış Hızal

Software Verification and Quality Assurance Manager
Orion Innovation Turkey

Abstract

Today, “Test Engineering” has become one of the popular fields with many job opportunities in IT sector. Therefore, many people looking for a job, strive to improve themselves to work in this field as a “Test Engineer”. To become a good test engineer, many skills need to be learned and developed. In this context, "Preparation of Test Scenarios, Documentation and Reporting", which are among the important topics of these skills, constitute the main topics of our conversation.

Biography

His career began as a global technical support engineer in a cross-functional team serving customers around the world. After 10 years of customer relations and support management experience, he joined the software verification and quality assurance team in 2016, where focusing on the software quality of the entire processes. He collaborates with universities alongside his professional career and has been teaching as a visiting lecturer for the past three years. He holds a bachelor’s degree in Electronics and Communications Engineering and a master’s degree in Organizational Behavior.

www.linkedin.com/in/bhizal